

Project support

Trust in the competence and experience of our team when working on your project. We will provide you with a personal contact person from our support team who will be pleased to deal with you and will support you intensively with the project handling.

Your advantages at a glance

- + Personal contact person, who is involved in your existing project
- + Direct and short-term answers to individual questions
- + Individual adjustment of the scope of services with hourly billing
- + Even over a longer period of time
- + Alternatively, at your office or at our offices as well as via phone and remote
- + Support at your own workplace with your own software and hardware.

Contact us for an individual offer via email info@sofistik.com or via phone +49 (0)911 39901-0.